

WHAT AM I?

"I am really useful when you want to test your theories out without having to actually do them for real. For example, you might want to find out how much more profit you could make if you put up your prices by 10%. They call me a "

ANSWER

"I am a tool that is used to help you calculate things in your spreadsheet. I can add, subtract, multiply, divide and many other things "

ANSWER

"I am a way of displaying the data your spreadsheet in a form that is often easier to understand. I am show the data as an image and I make it easy for you to see relationships or trends"

ANSWER

"I am a specific and very useful tool that you can use in Excel. For example, if you know how much profit you want to make, I can tell you exactly how many items you need to sell to achieve your profit"

ANSWER

"I'm a useful feature in your spreadsheet. I can help you put your data into a specific order. I can do it alphabetically, say from A-Z or I can do it numerically say from 100-1"

ANSWER